

Introduction

A unique diary management software product specifically designed for court lawyers. Don't be restricted by the industry standard calendar products that restrict multiple appointments occurring at the same time. Intelligent Diary has no restriction on the number of multiple appointments per time slot.

Appointments can be colour coded for ease of recognition re the type of appointment or maybe the importance of the appointment while at the same time allowing you to record your time spent with your client.

For example, Travel, Waiting and appointment time spent and as a by-product of this it will update your time sheets. Once your meeting has taken place you can also record the outcome of the meeting and enter the next appointment if applicable.

Plan your workload with ease and minimise the time consuming aspects of managing people, their time and most importantly the appointments.
